JURY RAPS HARD HIGHWAY ROBBER

Frank Patten Gets Sentence of 5 to 15 Years—Negro Passed Mexican Bill on Crap Player

A jury in the criminal court rapped heavily on Frank Patten when that young man was given from five to fifteen years in the state penitentiary for highway robbery. Patten had previously been arraigned on the charge of stealing an automobile from Cash-Melton, but this case was continued pending a settlement. It was charged by J. D. Odum and C. W. Odum, motorman and conductor on the Chickamauga park car line, that Patten boarded their car near the end of the line and at the point of a pistol robbed them of $80 in money. Patten denied the charge, but the Odums identified him as being the boy.

Both employees of the company stated that the man who robbed them left their car at Thirty-seventh street, and Chief Deputy Will Frazier and Constable Frank Hendrix were put to work on the case, and with only the name of the street where the robbery took off at, they by some clever work landed Patten behind the bars at the county jail. The officers then went to work on the case and gathered enough evidence against the man to convince the jury that he was the guilty party, and after only four minutes' deliberation it returned a verdict of guilty. The officers, besides having the satisfaction of seeing the man convicted, will receive a $200 reward, which it is understood the street car company gives to any one who succeeds in arresting and convicting any one who steals or destroys its property.

Rodger Hall, colored, succeeded in landing himself right in the middle of the workhouse when he was convicted of using a hatchet to destroy the property of others. Hall was charged with an attempt at arson. He pleaded not guilty, but he couldn't get by the judge and jury with a story like that, and over the hill to the workhouse he ambled.

Luther Talley, colored, was found guilty of passing a worthless bill on another negro and as a result was given six months in the workhouse. Louis Reeves was the prosecutor and stated that he and the defendant were engaged in a crap game and he got $5 in on Luther's bill and he took the bill and gave him $5 in change. Later he learned that the bill was Mexican and worth about 20 cents. He then hunted the law and had Luther locked up. Reeves on the witness stand, admitted that he tried to get the bill changed himself, but failed. Smith and Perkins made the arrest.

ICEMAN HAS CUTE LITTLE MUSTACHE

Miss Ely Admits She's Beautiful and Only Asks for "Moonlight."

Chattanooga has its postman whistler, but he didn't give up his job to follow the phantom of the footlights and induct into vaudeville "an act different." He may now see his error, for featuring the bill at the Rialto for the last three days of this week is a real iceman singer. The bill doesn't give his name, probably another method of stirring the interest and curiosity of the prospective customer, but if matters little, the warbler is "some iceman," with all the cute little idiosyncrasies of the clan. He probably developed his lung power by inquiring from the pavement how many pounds of solidified water Mrs. Smith wanted on the fourteenth floor, and he sorter hitches up his trousers and pulls up his sleeves unconsciously just as a regular iceman would be doing. This is it. It isn't added for "atmosphere," for the singer is free from guile. The only change he has made from the "good old days on the wagon" is in his mustache. Members of the Thursday's performance that he did not keep it so neatly trimmed then. His only props are a pair of icebocks, which he abandons when he gets under way. But there are four simply unimpeachable fair ones available, one of whom admits her beauty on the program, though it is not at all necessary—everyone agrees with her. Uric Acid in Meat Brings Rheumatism

Says a little Salts in water may save you from dread attack.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, drink plenty of good water. Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid, which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful of in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—(Adv.)

NEGRO UNDERTAKER HAS TOO MANY WIVES

Tells Draft Board Pitiful Tale of Sacrifices to Support "Wrong" Mrs. McGee.

Ben McGee was at a loss this morning to tell which was his wife—Pozona or Emma. McGee, a negro undertaker, it appears, when filling out his questionnaire, had a wife living in Cleveland, while he was living with a woman in this city. He made the usual affidavit, stating that he contributed $350 a year to his wife Pozona. Pozona being the woman McGee was living with, and not his wife, signed the affidavit for McGee's wife. Later it developed that McGee was the worst kind of a slacker. He was brought before Foster V. Brown this morning, where he told Mr. Brown of his sacrifices for the support of Pozona, and how he had sacrificed himself and bought goods on credit to take care of her.

About 200 boys will take part in the lively scramble for these "goobers."

MURDER CASE CONTINUED TO NEXT TERM OF COURT

The case of Wm. Crawford, colored, charged with the murder of Phileas Lay, colored, was called in the criminal court Friday morning and continued until next term of court. The killing, it is understood, was the result of an argument over 20 cents which Crawford claims Lay owed him. Crawford will attempt to establish a case of self-defense.

BLOOD-STAINED RAZOR POINTS ACCUSING FINGER AT SUSPECTS

Thomas Carden and Burt Long Tell Conflicting Tales—Civil and Military Police Probe Deep to See if Men Arrested Can Be Those Who Cut Soldier's Throat.

Thomas Carden and Burt Long, the two young men picked up in East Chattanooga Thursday afternoon and held on the charge of carrying pistols, larceny and carrying pistols, tell conflicting stories as to their recent whereabouts on different occasions. The men were locked in the Hamilton county jail in separate cells and not allowed to see each other. Despite the fact that they both state they have been constantly in each other's company for several months back, they tell conflicting stories as to where they have been lately.

The men are suspected of knowing something of the murder of Charles R. Earle, the young soldier who recently was found with his throat cut and who has succumbed to his injuries.

Blood-Stained Razors.

Just as the arrest was made by the deputies, two soldier detectives who had been working on the case came up. The soldiers, Privates Sparks and Anderson, state that they had been watching a shack which Long and Carden occupied in Midway jointly with the two women in the case. In this shack last Monday the Sammies found two jimmies and two razors, one which had stains on it. They seized the razors and took them to headquarters for analysis. Along with this was a box of Chas. Denby cigars and a five-pound box of candy.

The soldiers, who have been on the case ever since Monday, trail the case right side. On the outside of the shack, the men stayed at the house of a Mrs. Clayton. From Rossville they returned to East Chattanooga to the home of Carden's mother, now named Mrs. Wolf. The soldiers say the two girls in the case were at Wolf's place.

Here they ran into the deputies, who had arrested the suspects. When questioned, Carden and Long claimed they worked in the Richmond Hosiery mill at Rossville, but investigation showed they did not work there.

Blood on Coat.

On Long's coat, a cheap blue serge, were some blood stains in the lining on the right side. On the outside of the coat were two holes burned by acid, as if the man had burned something out of his coat.

At 8 o'clock Friday morning Capt. Kern, chief of provost guard, came to the jail and took the two men to the county jail to the Fort Oglethorpe headquarters for investigation. As Long entered the motor, Kern snapped out:

"How did you get blood stains on your coat?"

Long looked at him nonplussed.

"I didn't know there was any blood on it."

"Yes, on the lining."

Long said he didn't know how it came there.

When Long was asked why he carried two pistols he replied: "Why, I have been carrying two pistols ever since I could walk."

DRAFT MEN WILL PARADE MARCH 9

"Dixie Volunteers" Plan to Leave for Camp Not Later Than March 16.

"The Dixie Volunteers," as they have officially designated the class A-1 men of both city draft boards, will confine their enlistments to board No. 1. Foster Brown, Gentry has been placed in complete charge of the organization and announced Friday morning that the company will leave for camp not later than March 16. In the meantime they are going to get all the drilling and experience they can in the drill and have planned a street parade for Saturday, March 9.

The organization is being completed in the special interest of men in the first call of the next draft quota, many of whom are eager to be under way and some of whom will find it a convenience to go at once, as they have either resigned from their employment or made general arrangements to that end.

By going together in a body the boys also hope to be able to remain as a company through the course of training on this side of the water at least. The next meeting is to be held at the Central Y. M. C. A. Tuesday at 7 p.m., when the men will sign the required papers and determine just what they will do. Authority has been received from Washington that will enable the company to be accepted at camp without delay.

post, he said last Wednesday night a week ago and on Monday in the day-time just preceding Wednesday. He said that he and Long were together on both these occasions, but when Long was asked when he had been to the army post he said not since way last summer. When Carden was asked if he had killed the soldier he said: "No, but if I had seen several soldiers Sunday night I would have killed me one." He then stated that while he and Long were away from home three soldiers came singing along the road and stopped in front of his home where his wife and Long's wife were and said: "Your husbands are not at home; we will be back after a while and come in." Carden said that they were singing and cursing aloud, which greatly worried the women.

Both Carden and Long say they are woodchoppers and live one mile and a half on the other side of Rossville. They admit working but little of late, claiming that there isn't anything to do. They state they both married in Jacksonville, where they were born. When the men were taken in charge they were accompanied by their wives. They stated that they had been on a trip to Charleston and came back on train No. 92. They say their wives did not go with them on the trip, but when they got back from Charleston they caught an East Chattanooga car and accidentally found their wives on the car. They had no idea of meeting their wives on the East Chattanooga car, and said that when they ran up on them they were greatly surprised. Their wives were with them when they were taken in charge by Deputy Sheriffs Walter and Joe Clark. The women were also taken to the county jail, but later allowed to go.

Once in Army.

Both prisoners are young men, on the very threshold of life, but have the appearance of not-do-wells and assume an indifferent air as to the seriousness of their condition. Despite the fact that he faces the serious charges now registered against him, with the probability of murder charge added to it, Carden was sleeping soundly when visited Thursday night by a News reporter. It was with difficulty that his cellmate awoke him. He told his story only in answer to questions asked him. He told the reporter that he had been in the army and, although he looks the picture of health, says his mother got him out of the army on some grounds. He claims that the army shirt he wore and the pistol scabbard he brought out of the army with him when he was discharged. When asked what he was doing with two pistols, he replied that it was just foolishness that was all.

When Long was asked why he carried two pistols he replied: "Why, I have been carrying two pistols ever since I could walk."

When the men were arrested they had on two suits of underwear, two suits of clothes, two suits of overalls, two pairs of shoes, but little money.

BARDIN NOT CONNECTED WITH TEA POT RESTAURANT

Mrs. Bardin, wife of H. C. Bardin, former member of the firm of Bardin & Kittrell, owners and operators of the Tea Pot restaurant at Eighth and Cherry streets, claims she has nothing to do with the financial troubles of that concern. She authorizes the statement that the partnership between the two men was dissolved Feb. 16 by mutual consent, as is evidenced by an advertisement printed in The News of that date.

Mrs. Bardin says when her husband sold out he went to Florence, Ala., and has since been connected with the government work at Muscle Shoals. She has had no further connection with the restaurant and is in no way responsible for its financial entanglement, resulting in litigation in the chancery court.

HOW TO GROW FAT

A Lazy Stomach the Cause of Thinness Nine Times in Ten.

If you are thin or lean, have scrawny arms and neck, you can't grow fat unless your food properly digests. People take on flesh in proportion to the nutritious matter which the organs of digestion absorb and pass into the blood.

Just as long as the nutritious matter passes along without being absorbed, just so long will you remain thin. Perhaps your stomach, bowels and liver need a tonic. If your digestion is not perfect, Mica-na tablets will put it right at once.

Mica-na will relieve indigestion and every conceivable ailment of the stomach promptly. It strengthens digestion by building and toning up and not by encouraging a tired stomach to continue its selfish and health-destroying habits. It promptly drives away sour stomachs, belching of gas, heartburn after eating.

Dr. Anderson sells Mica-na and guarantees it to relieve indigestion, sea sickness, vomiting of pregnancy and all stomach diseases and distress or money back. Mica-na is sold by leading druggists.—(Adv.)
